The Faculty of Health Sciences at the University of Balamand, Lebanon, is seeking well-qualified individuals to join its growing multidisciplinary team in Health Sciences. There are opportunities in the fields of Public Health, Health Promotion and Biostatistics and Epidemiology at the levels of Assistant Professor, and/or Associate Professor. Appointments are effective Fall 2014 or Spring 2015.

Candidates must possess a PhD, MD and MPH, or Dr.PH, and are expected to teach in undergraduate and graduate programs. The language of instruction is English. Programs are offered on three campuses: in the capital Beirut next to a large teaching hospital; on the Koura main campus close to Tripoli, the second largest city of Lebanon; and on the new mountain campus of Souk el Gharb.

Preference will be given to candidates with good communication skills, an ongoing track record in research and with an interest in supporting community outreach efforts.

Review of applications will be on a rolling basis until the positions are filled. Appointments would also be considered for qualified applicants about to finish their PhD, or who are interested in a sabbatical semester or year.

Compensation is internationally competitive and commensurate with qualifications and experience. All benefits are as per University Academic Rules & Regulations. (http://www.balamand.edu.lb/Offices/AdministrativeOffices/HumanResources/RulesAndRegulations/Pages/RulesandRegulations.aspx)
